How Did the Sahabah Spend Their Ramadan?

BY SUAD KAMARDEEN

It's narrated that Ibn Umar RA used to say when Ramadan started, ‘Welcome oh the month that purifies us from the sins.’

Yahya ibn Abi Kathir, may Allah have mercy on him, would supplicate when the month of Ramadan arrived, “O Allah, secure me for Ramadan, secure Ramadan for me, and receive my deeds with acceptance.” [Hilyat al-Awliyā’ 3/69]

The Prophet SAW said, “Fasting is a shield. When anyone of you is fasting on a day, he should neither indulge in obscene language, nor raise his voice; rather if anyone reviles him or quarrels with him, he should say, ‘I am fasting.’” [Bukhari and Muslim]

Ali RA would deliver a sermon, after Fajr and Asr prayers, reminding people that fasting is “not merely from food and drink, but rather from lying, falsehood, and vain talk.” [al-Sunan al-Kubrā lil-Bayhaqī 7955]

Jabir ibn Abdullah RA also said, “If you fast, then guard your ears, eyes and tongue against lies and evil deeds; do not abuse your servants; be tranquil and dignified on the day you observe fasting; do not let the day when you do not fast and the day when you fast be the same.” [ibn abi Shayba]

Uthman ibn Affan RA was said to complete the recitation of the Qur’an once every day, some sahabah completed it once every three nights, some in every seven nights and so on. They recited it during their prayers and at other times.

Once when Ibn Umar was reciting Surah Mutaffifin and reached the verse “a Day when everyone will stand before the Lord of the Worlds?” he cried so hard that he was overwhelmed and couldn't carry on reading.

Aisha RA said, “Do not abandon qiyam al-layl, for the Messenger of Allah SAW never left it. If he was not well or felt heavy, he prayed sitting.”

Such is the importance of the night prayer that Umar ibn al-Khattab RA used to pray at night for a lengthy period, and when it was in the middle of the night, he would wake up his family to pray too. Then he would recite the verse, “And enjoin prayer upon your family [and people] and be steadfast therein. We ask you not for provision; We provide for you, and the [best] outcome is for [those of] righteousness.” [Qur’an 20:132]

Also, during the caliphate of Umar ibn al-Khattab (RA), he would instruct Ubay ibn Ka'b and Tameem ad-Daari to lead taraweeh salah. They recited long surahs to the extent that some people had to use a staff to support themselves while standing.

Abdullah, the son of Abu Bakr al-Siddiq (RA), also narrated that when they finished their qiyam, they had to hurry to eat their food for fear of Fajr beginning. [Muwata of Imam Malik]

Ibn Umar RA used to pray in his house during Ramadan, and when people departed from the mosque, he would go there with a flask of water [to pray] and wouldn't leave until after Fajr.

Ibn Abbas RA said, “The Messenger of Allah SAW was the most generous person, and he would be even more so in the month of Ramadan because Jibreel would meet him every night in the month of Ramadan till it elapsed. The Messenger of Allah SAW would recite the Qur'an for him. When Jibreel met him, he would be more generous than the blowing wind in doing good.” [Bukhari and Muslim]

Ibn Umar RA used to break his fast with poor people and if a poor person came to him asking for food while he was eating, he used to give him his portion.

The Prophet SAW said, “Whoever gives iftaar to one who is fasting will have a reward like his, without that detracting from the reward of the fasting person in the slightest.” [Tirmidhi]

The Prophet SAW and his companions were also generous with their duas. They never failed to seek forgiveness for themselves, others, loved ones, ummah etc.

Charity can come in different forms through spending your wealth, giving your time, donating your skills or other resources. In Islam, we're taught that a smile is charity, saying a good word is charity, as is spreading salam and so many more easy to do deeds.

Also, when crafting your dua list, how can you make it as inclusive as possible? Remember, the Prophet SAW said, “No Muslim servant supplicates for his brother behind his back but that the angel says: And for you the same.” [Muslim]

Aisha RA said, “When the last ten days of Ramadan arrived, the Prophet SAW would tighten his belt, spend the night in worship, and awaken his family.” [Bukhari]

The sahabah took great care in how they presented themselves to their Lord during the last ten days, by taking a bath and applying perfume every night. They also maximised hours of the night and after, by staying in the mosque after Fajr prayer until sunrise [Muslim].

Aisha RA reported, “The Prophet SAW would seek spiritual retreat in the mosque during the last ten nights of Ramadan, until Allah Almighty caused him to pass away. His wives continued to perform the retreat after him.” [Bukhari]

Zakat al-Fitr is an obligation, and Ibn Abbas RA shares that, “The Prophet SAW obligated charity at the end of Ramadan as purification of the fasting person from vain talk and misbehaviour, as food for the poor. Whoever pays it before the Eid prayer, it is accepted as Zakat. Whoever pays it after the Eid prayer, it is part of voluntary charity.” [Sunan Abi Dawud 1609]

Waki' ibn al-Jarrah, may Allah have mercy on him, said, “Zakat al-Fitr is to the month of Ramadan like the prostration of forgetfulness is to prayer. It makes up for deficiencies in fasting just as the prostration makes up for deficiencies in prayer.” [al-Majmū' Sharh al-Muhadhab 6/140]
